

For Immediate Release:

New Vision Global Capital Partners LLC announced Institutional securities-backed restricted stock loan program today. Allowing clients to tap up to 50% liquidity of their concentrated positions of 144 stocks.

January 25th, 2010- New Vision GCP- A Melbourne-based worldwide private company that structures and originates loans and portfolio hedging products to individuals and institutions, using publicly traded securities as collateral, announced the opening of their new product line of restricted stock loans.

New Vision GCP has partnered with a well respected global leader in lending, bringing liquidity to their clients in order to capitalize on market opportunity. It offers a range of feature-rich loan programs exclusive to its private U.S. and overseas clients. New Vision GCP is able to structure loans based on clients needs; every loan is tailored to fit the goals of companies and individuals. These two products have been many years in the making and were developed in response to many past client requests.

Officers of New York and NASDAQ stock exchange along with OTC.BB and Pink Sheet companies have very large concentrated positions in their 144 and free trading stock; this will enable them to take some liquidity out of their position to reinvest into other investments such as Real Estate, Energy, Education cost, Business acquisition or to diversify their concentrated securities position.

Banks have been slow to recovery and are not lending as aggressively as they have in the past. With our programs, not only publicly traded companies and officers can borrow against their positions, we also loan to top 500 private companies and investors as well. No personal financials are required so top executives. They can borrow without leaving footprints in the market place and borrow with complete financial privacy says David Arnoff, a managing member.

New Vision GCP managing member Mike Schnetzler added; you keep your investment strategy on track. With our products you can leverage your assets for funds you need rather than deplete cash reserves or disrupt your investment strategy by selling assets.

Investors can access cash within 5-7 days. One of the many features that make this an attractive tool for investors is the fact that they have access to needed liquidity with no personal financials and no personal recourse. If your stock experiences a down turn and you have a call you can walk away from the loan with no personal liability. The lender only looks at the collateral to repay the debt with no liability to you.
